Accommodation

We have secured accommodation at a near by seaside cottages located at Dånö - for details please see <http://www.visitaland.com/en/services/dano-strandvillor/> .

What to bring to the camp?

- Personal bouldering gear - climbing shoes, chalk buckets/bags
- Clothes - Wear long pants as the area has ticks, bring something warm to wear for the evenings and cloudy days and also a wind & rain resistant jacket is not a bad idea just incase it gets wet
- 20-30l backpack to carry your daily stuff like food, water and extra clothes to the crags and back
- Swimwear
- Good shoes for walking - some of the crags have a bit of an approach (20 mins to 1h)
- A good water bottle or two - we need to carry our own food and water to the crags
- A lunch box / something to carry your lunch in your bag. Also a spork and a plastic plate is a good idea
- Your personal medicine if you are allergic to pollen etc
- Some pocket money - however there is no store close to the accommodations so stock up on any snacks on the way to Åland
- Bedlinens and towels are included with our accommodation, so no need to bring your own unless you prefer your own.

Registering your participation

Each country's climbing association will gather a list of their participants and deliver it to Santeri Turkulainen - santeri.turkulainen@gmail.com at the latest on 15.4.2016 Friday.
